■ introduction ■

Are you undecided about which major or career path to choose?

You are a unique individual, full of potential to pursue and accomplish your career dreams. Sometimes it can seem very overwhelming to figure out which next step to take. With a little reflection and organization, however, this process can be so much easier.

Finding Your Career Fit is a 4-step process to discover your interests, personality type, skills/talents, and values that complement various career environments. While these 4 areas will be assessed individually, in order to explore careers that would be a good fit for you, it is important to consider where they overlap.

It is in the overlap of these 4-areas that your career fit can be identified.

■ your career daydream ■

DIRECTIONS: Close your eyes and imagine yourself in your dream career. Then, answer the following questions. What do your responses reveal about possible careers you could explore?

1. What time would you wake up in the morning? _____

2. What would you wear to work? _____

3. Do you imagine yourself living in a house, apartment, condo, etc.? _____

4. How would you get to work? (car, train, bus, other) _____

5. What would your work setting look like? (office, outdoors, home office, classroom, other) _____

6. How many people would you prefer to work with? (lots, a few, work independently) _____

7. How active would you be throughout the day? (sit at computer/standing & sitting) _____

8. What would be the focus/purpose of your work? (helping people, developing a product, etc.)

9. What are three work activities that you would want to incorporate during the day? _____

10. How would you serve others in the work you do? _____

11. How much yearly salary would you desire to make in this profession? _____

12. What would your personal life look like? (single, married, children, pets, hobbies) _____

■ what you enjoy ■

DIRECTIONS: Think about your interests on a personal level when responding to the following questions:

1. What books, TV shows, or movies do you MOST enjoy?

2. What are your hobbies?

3. What do you enjoy talking about with your friends?

4. What do you do on a regular basis that you would enjoy doing for free – unconcerned about payment?

What are the THEMES within the information you listed above (i.e., adventure, helping people, researching, leading, etc.)? Even if you have multiple interests, this can be a good starting point to identify majors and careers that align with those interests.

Go to O*NET, <http://www.onetonline.org/> You can use keywords in the “Quick Search” box to search for jobs related to your interests.

■ your interests ■

DIRECTIONS: Put a check by each activity you enjoy. Then, add up the checks in each column and total each section. What are your top 3 interest areas (i.e., Artistic, Enterprising, Social – AES)? List top 3 on next page.

■ your personality ■

DIRECTIONS:

1. In the following 4 sections, put a check next to the sentence, on either side, that best describes how you tend to think or act on a daily basis.
2. Add up each column.
3. Subtract the lower number from the higher number and circle the corresponding number on the scale below to see where you range. (Example: Extroversion 6 – Introversion 3 = Circle 3 on Extroversion side)
4. If you have an equal amount of checks on each side, circle “0” meaning a balance in those areas.
5. What THEMES emerge?

* Self-assessment is based on the Myers –Briggs Personality Type Indicator
