Coursework to Workforce
CAREER READINESS AND YOUR COURSE

"What's the Point?"

Transparency in learning in and teaching, or TILT*, does not just apply to framing assignments or activities for students. Consider explicitly connecting your course activities and assignments to career readiness by articulating transferable, workforce skills that students develop as they progress in your course.

Categories of Career Readiness Competencies

- Career & Self Developmnent
- Communication
- Critical thinking
- Equity & Inclusion
- Leadership
- Professionalism
- Teamwork
- Technology

Career Competencies Explained:

Example: The "Skillabi" Project

Where to Include Competency Language:

- Syllabi
- Assignment Instructions
- Class activity instructions
- Group projects

Career Center
UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

Questions?
Email Megan P. Brock,
Assistant Director of Graduate Student Services and Faculty Engagement

*Winkelmes, M. (2014). Transparency in learning and teaching project. TILT Higher Ed. https://tilthighered.com/transparency